Description of Occupational Categories

OFFICIALS, MANAGERS AND SUPERVISORS—Occupations requiring administrative personnel who set broad policies, exercise over-all responsibility for execution of these policies, and direct individual departments or special phases of a firm's operations. Includes: officials, executives, middle management, plant managers, department managers and superintendents, salaried foremen who are members of management, purchasing agents and buyers, and kindred workers.

PROFESSIONALS—Occupations requiring either college graduation or experience of such kind and amount as to provide a comparable background. Includes: accountants and auditors, airplane pilots and navigators, architects, artists, chemists designers, dietitians, editors, engineers, lawyers, librarians, mathematicians, natural scientists, personnel and labor relations workers, physical scientists, physicians, social scientists, teachers and kindred workers.

TECHNICIANS—Occupations requiring a combination of basic scientific knowledge and manual skill which can be obtained through about 2 years of post high school education, such as is offered in many technical institutes and junior colleges, or through equivalent on-the-job training. Includes: draftsmen, engineering aids, junior engineers, mathematical aides, nurses, photographers, radio operators, scientific assistants, surveyors, technical illustrators, technicians (medical, dental, electronic physical sciences), and kindred workers.

SALES WORKERS—Occupations engaging wholly or primarily in direct selling. Includes: advertising agents and salesmen, insurance agents and brokers, real estate agents and brokers, stock and bond salesmen, demonstrators, salesmen and sales clerks, and kindred workers.

OFFICE AND CLERICAL—Includes all clerical-type work regardless of level of difficulty, where the activities are predominately nonmanual though some manual work not directly involved with altering or transporting the products is included. Includes: bookkeepers, cashiers, collectors (bills and accounts), messengers and office boys, office machine operators, shipping and receiving clerks, stenographers, typists and secretaries, telegraph and telephone operators, and kindred workers.

CRAFTSMEN (SKILLED)—Manual workers of relatively high skill level having a thorough and comprehensive knowledge of the processes involved in their work. Exercise considerable independent judgement and usually receive an extensive period of training. Includes: the building trades, hourly paid foremen and leadmen who are not members of management, mechanics and repairmen, skilled machining occupations, compositors and typesetters, electricians, engravers, job setters (metal), motion picture projectionists, pattern and model makers, stationary engineers, tailors and tailoresses, and kindred workers.

OPERATIVES (SEMI-SKILLED)—Workers who operate machine or processing equipment or perform other factory-type duties of intermediate skill level which can be mastered in a few weeks and require only limited training.

LABORERS (UNSKILLED)—Workers in manual occupations which generally require no special training. Perform elementary duties that may be learned in a few days and require the application of little or no independent judgment. Includes: garage laborers, car washers and greasers, gardeners (except farm) and groundskeepers, longshoremen and stevedores, lumbermen, raftsmen and wood choppers, laborers performing lifting, digging, mixing, loading, and pulling operations, and kindred workers.

SERVICE WORKERS—Workers in both protective and nonprotective service occupations. Includes: attendants (hospital and other institution, professional and personal service), barbers, charwomen and cleaners, cooks (except household), counter and fountain workers, elevator operators, firemen and fire protection, guards, watchmen and doorkeepers, stewards, janitors, policemen and detectives, porters, waiters and waitresses, and kindred workers.

APPRENTICES—Persons employed in a program including work training and related instruction to learn a trade or craft which is traditionally considered an apprenticeship, regardless of whether the program is registered with a Federal or State agency.

If the contractor is bidding on a City contract a copy of this covenant and the contractor's Affirmative Action Plan must be submitted with the bid package. Any Affirmative Action Plan submitted to the Office of Equal Opportunity Programs must be approved by the Contract Compliance Officer. Failure to comply will result in the bid being non-responsive.

(2.) Signatories to the Indianapolis Plan may submit the Plan as their AA Plan provided the Plan includes total workforce analysis and goals and timetables. Those contractors having five (5) or less employees are not required to submit an Affirmative Action Plan to the Office of Equal Opportunity Programs; however, any such contractor may be investigated by the Contract Compliance Officer to see what commitment, if any, said contractor has made to the goals and principles of Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action.

(3.) In addition, all bidders for contracts funded in whole or in part with federal monies, shall fully comply with the United States Department of Labor "Model Federal EEO Bid Condition," as set forth in 41 Federal Register 32482, August 3, 1976, and attached to the invitation to bid, including President's Executive Order #11246, as amended, and all implementing rules and regulations thereunder.

(4.) Pursuant to I.C. 5-16-7, each construction project must receive a scale of prevailing wages for this area from the Indiana State Division of Labor. All construction contract bids, in addition to the other requirements, must include in their computation such wage information. The Building Trades Council, will perform on-site reviews of contractors to determine if they are in compliance and shall report any cases of non-compliance to the Contract Compliance Officer . In addition, any complaints from any source regarding non-compliance in this area should be directed to the Contract Compliance Officer. The Contract Compliance Officer is responsible for investigating any report or complaint of non-compliance and has the authority to take any and all action outlined in the Executive Order to effectuate compliance with our State statute. If, in the opinion of the Office of Equal Opportunity Programs, the disputes cannot be resolved informally, the information shall be transmitted to the Marion County Prosecutor for further proceedings in enforcing the law, pursuant to I.C. 5-16-3.

(5.) City-County contracts shall include the following provisions for termination for non-compliance with the non-discrimination requirements of this order:

Non-Compliance Procedure

After a determination by the contract Compliance Officer that a contractor has failed to comply with the terms of this Executive Order while operating under a City-County contract, or has been adjudged in violation of any applicable State or Federal law, the Contract Compliance Officer shall serve written notice of such noncompliance on the contractor or his representative(s). The Contractor shall be responsible for notifying any subcontractor or supplier who is not in compliance.

Upon request by the Contract Compliance Officer, the contractor determined to be in non-compliance shall meet with the compliance officer within ten (10) calendar days of the written notice in order to determine a method of correcting the deficiencies and the time period within which such remedy shall be effected. If the remedy is not agreed upon within fourteen (14) calendar days of the required notice, the compliance officer shall prescribe the remedy by which deficiencies shall be corrected and notify the contractor in writing of such determination. If the contractor does not correct the deficiencies in the manner prescribed by the Contract Compliance Officer within thirty (30) calendar days, the City may impose one or more of the following sanctions:

a. Cancel, terminate, suspend, or cause to be cancelled, terminated, or suspended, any contract, or any portion or portions thereof, including but not limited to withholding any progress payment or any other monies payable or due under the contract, for failure of the contractor of subcontractor to comply with the provision of this Executive Order.

b. Reserve the rights to review further contracts, or extensions or other modifications of existing contracts with any non-complying contractor to ascertain whether or not such contractor has satisfied the standards and procedures as established by the Contract Compliance Officer; and, that such contractor has established and will implement personnel and employment policies that comply with the provisions of this Executive Order.

PART III.

The City-County will award any contract for public work or improvements to the lowest responsive bidder. It is the policy of this Administration to acknowledge the fact that the lowest bid will not always be a responsible and responsive bid. In recognition of this fact and in furtherance of the City-County commitment to training, and employment of minorities and women, the City-County will consider the costs of training and percentage of minority and women utilization in its determination of "responsible and responsive." The Bureau of Apprenticeship Training of the United States Department of Labor has expressed its concern that the City-County promote training by encouraging its contractors to utilize the BAT in developing training programs. The City-County does hereby endorse the BAT and strongly encourages all City contractors to utilize the BAT for any and all appropriate purposes.
